

ECC – Energy & Controls Centre

MEDIC is one of the tools used by our Energy and Controls Centre (ECC) to enable the unification of the energy management and BEMS controls worlds.

By combining energy management services with our BEMS controls services we offer a complete life cycle solution to our customers, maximising plant efficiency and energy savings across the customer's entire estate.

Services

ENERGY

A number of services are available from host only, for customers with their own energy management teams, to our full analytical service. Our energy analyser service utilises all the features of the MEDIC system and includes specialist advice on energy saving initiatives and usage optimisation.

CONTROLS

Our BEMS controls services include options for reactive and proactive support, providing around the clock issue investigation and resolution to ensure minimum impact to building occupants and energy consumption.

Fully automated performance monitoring enables us to continuously monitor BEMS and plant performance and provide advice on building efficiency improvements to ensure optimum operation.
